五、閱讀測驗(共 2 分,每題 1 分)

1. Michael Jackson was born to be a star. In 1962, he began singing with his brothers in the band The Jackson 5. In 1978, he started his solo career (單飛). Then, with 1979's album (專輯) Off the Wall and 1982's Thriller, Michael Jackson won himself the name "King of Pop."

Although Michael Jackson was a superstar, he had a bad relationship with his father, who was very strict with his children. During Michael's childhood, his father often beat him and said that he had a fat nose. The deep regret seemed to encourage him to help others. For instance, he donated a lot of money to help poor children. He even influenced the world by expressing his thoughts in his songs. The song "Black or White" showed that people should break down racial barriers (種族隔閡). Also, in 1985, he wrote the song "We Are the World" to call attention to the hungry in Africa. At the same time, his musical success continued. In 1992, he became the highest paid artist of all time.

For some reason, Michael Jackson didn't release new albums from 2002 to 2009. So, when the fans knew that he was going to give comeback concerts (復出演唱會) in 2009, they all looked forward to his performances. 2. There is a saying that "Charity begins at home." This proverb means that we should take care of our family before we take care of others. If we are unable to give support to the ones close to us, we don't have the ability to lend a hand to others.

The origin of this idea might come from the Bible. Christians (基督徒) think family values to be important. Family, our closest relatives, are the ones who always give a helping hand when we are faced with difficulties. Thus, Christians encourage everyone to consider family their first priority. For example, before we decide to work for charity, we should make sure that we have spent enough time with our family.

However, this does not mean that we should never help strangers. Thomas Fuller, a churchman in seventeenth-century England, further explained the saying by "Charity begins at home, but should not end there." It means that while caring for our family is important, we should still help others after taking care of our family. This idea can be extended (延伸) from family to nation. Take Tzu Chi Foundation, a charity which has been doing charitable work in Taiwan since 1966, for example. It is now an international charity helping the needy worldwide.

Helping others is a great virtue (美德), and it makes us feel good as well. If we have the ability to help others, we should just do it and let the chain of love go on.
